In agreement let's get this beauty live the community is going to be ecstatic when there is a NFT game providing yield in a token. They'll be paid for playing. No one is doing what we are about to implement. We will land in the top 3, where, I can't predict. But anywhere you there will be a huge success.

 Utility
    Our goal is to reward our community and give them as many options for utility as possible. Each animal, being an NFT, has ownership rights, and in CryptoZoo, that applies to the trademarks associated with each NFT.

An example a user who owns a Bearshark NFT in their zoo, will be yielded 2% of Bearshark VodkaTM sales.
Wild uses of utility: (you can put in what you would like)

Launching Bearshark VodkaTM, the first of many products. Utility yields will be distributed monthly to eligible NFT owners. (2% of sales)

Users will be able to use Zoo at any Cisco location for purchase.

Once Cisco is done want to get it in hard rock & dolphin stadium with Higgins to use zoo for ticket and in stadium purchases for hard rock and the miami dolphins. In tandem hit Todd up at dodger stadium (his son is one of our QA testers)

An auction house with "bid" and "ask" functionality will be 7 of 9 in the game from its inception. Once hatched, animals can be put up for auction and sold to other players.
Animals sold at auction are still "owned" and therefore do not distribute their yield to either the original or new token holder. Upon auction sale, both the animal and all of its accrued yield will be transferred to the buyer. An animal's yield is carried between ownership transfers, and is never realized by an owner, until the animal is released into the wild. This creates another layer of game functionality as CryptoZoo players will drive the activity of this secondary auction market.

In addition to the initial purchase of eggs, in-game transactions are available to players to support additional game functionality and provide further ZOO utility.

   •   Egg purchasing
   •   Breeding
   •   Stud fees
   •   Egg incubation boost
   •   Breeding recovery boost
   •   Animal Yield

CryptoZoo Commercial

Welcome to CryptoZoo. 10,000 Base Eggs are minted when the game begins. ZooKeepers collect and hatch Base eggs to spawn 1 of 16 Base animals.

Animals are categorized by rarity. Common, uncommon, rare, super rare, and epic.

ZooKeepers then select two Base Animals to breed. Any combination is possible.

For example, maybe a Shark, meets a Kitten. They fall in love, and create a Hybrid egg. In 36 hours, a brand new species is born, called... the Sharkitty.

Or perhaps an Elephant & a Pug. Elepug.

Maybe a Penguin, and an Orca. Meet the Porca.

... and so on. In the CryptoZoo, animal fusion is achievable.

The higher rarity, the more $ZooToken your exotic animal Hybrid YIELDS. $ZooToken is our in-game currency that represents real money Keepers can generate, just by holding your animals.

$ZooToken can be used for discounts on eggs, expedited hatching & breeding.

As your Zoo grows, keepers can collect, breed, trade, and even play mini games with their companions in our autonomous ecosystem.

So come, bring your wildest animal hybrids to life in the CryptoZoo. Let the breeding begin.

> agree

Eddie Ibanez

Second that

Jeff Levin

I don't think we need it in the commercial but the white paper has the rarity chart and yield. It's fucking special. We should highlight that on the home page somewhere

That chart Charles made is crazy

> Can you send that page here

Jeff Levin

All the things that show we are not just a simple game will gain people's respect

Let me look for it

Eddie Ibanez

For what it's worth.

When I tell people why am I involved in this. I tell them because it gives anyone the opportunity to be more than they are by doing something they love and playing a game. We're using decentralization to bring people advantages to earn yield & real money by playing a game. We're hacking the system for them. We represent the users. Just as Washington, Franklin and Jefferson did. Our war is with the corporate conglomerates like google and Amazon and together we will rise unified under this token and raise value and utility for all.

Eddie Ibanez   👍

That purity is the foundation of this project. Never change that. It's because of you're passion to create these animals opens a door for anyone to carry out a passion that they could never make in real life. That brother is the essence. To create that in which we could never make in real life. Because of that we can unite others and give them a piece of that through every egg, every token and am every animal they create.

The system wants all of us to believe we must follow it to be a success. We know that is not true. The system can be hacked. I found my purpose in life in this project. It's to give people the right and capability to make what they never thought they could come true in real life. These animals represent lore than the images and pixels that create them. They represent a future that did not exist prior. One created by the users that breed them. It's our responsibility to reward those actions with utility. Just like our forefathers rewarded the United States of America with freedom.

We the zoo are the liberators of the oppressed. That's what I believe. Dramatic as it may be - I've always went in 100%.

My daughter asked if this would be a big deal and I told her yes. I'll die before I break that promise.

I believe in this – never have I seen so many billionaires and children excited about a project. From 9years kid to a 80year old billionaire ... they believe. It's up to us to execute. I will deliver on the UI – and gameplay. I'll die before I do anything other.

You couldn't be more spot on. Everyone that sees it is instantly in love with the animals and concept. My grandma breeds animals with my 7 yr ole cousins. They are upset when the game comes out, that they'll lose current animals. People who get the opportunity to play are already feeling positive sentiment that is indescribable.

But isn't that just a game of chance because they may not get the animal that has the hidden message

If we did this – and left a cipher you'd have to either drop it to everyone – or hide it somewhere so that if you click you get a prompt. I agree it should be a free way the resourceful get a chance to play..

I haven't thought it through honestly but seems like an idea someone could run with while we're finalizing Dev.

Aaron Jacobson

The number of eggs doesn't change 1yr return, but will drive more demand vs 16k.

Increasing price from $211 to $310 cuts 1yr return by about 50%.

If we accept ETH for eggs in addition to $ZOO, there's an opportunity cost. $ZOO will have a lot less buyers.

If we can push up $ZOO price 1000-2000%, the increase would make up for extra egg cost.

Agree the eggs will sell out, no problem.

2 Replies

Eddie Ibanez

What's the math mean 1 year return meaning if I spent $211 per get and it's now 310 I as a user would make 50% less year 1? I think that's ok.

Aaron Jacobson

The egg limit is really good. But people will game it and create a bunch of wallets.

Jeff Levin

We want the yearly return to be significant so people are excited about their $ they yield

AJ Running it 👍

AJ You buy and hatch 5 eggs at $310, total spend $1550. Here are yield values after 1-yr.

At $ZOO price .000015:
5 common = $180 usd
5 epic = $55,000 usd

At max $ZOO price .000050:
5 common = $600 usd
5 epic = $186,000 usd

AJ If $ZOO increases, yield goes way up

This is dope! Couple questions on how it's going to work:

Should we apply this to all or just some of these hybrids...example – Is every Bearblob mythical, or just a small % of Bearblobs, and the rest are still epic?

Are you thinking bump up yield for all of these from what it would've been, or leave yield and just change rarity class?

Where there are more than one image for the same 2-animal pair/ order (e.g. 4 images for a panda elephant), I don't think the dev team has the other images. I didn't see them on the image server. Does Eddie have those?

Separate question on hybrid rarity: saw your note on classifying hybrids with one rarity, instead of 2. How do you want to name those? Like, Pug + Blobfish = Plobfish shouldn't be labeled as "Common/ Epic" ... should it be the highest rarity, so "Epic"?

Every bearblob is mythical. Rarity is universal across a specific hybrid

Bump up yield to match rarity - people will be confused otherwise

Jeff Levin

Field questions. 1000x a day people are going to ask what happens if we combine animal x and y, what yields are produced, how do we find the yield, how do u get back to the market, any dumb question and some smart ones get funneled to 1 channel. Telegram.

Once we announce the mint, those buying eggs, the team, the platform, hype and FOMO go nuts. Right now no one knows wtf we r doing. The minute that changes a flood come in.

We've been quiet and stealth til we were confirmed we could "push." If we can announce the egg sale and the concept, socials and FOMO happen immediately.

Side note, the last NFT drop I did, had a presale. Of the NFTs and those sold out and for 20% less than normal price to incentivize every buyers. It also got the influencers involved at ground floor. If we want we can allocate 5k eggs for the presale ONLY can be purchased in ZOO if we want to drive zoo demand. Or purchase any method but 5k allocated to presale may let friends and family and influencers scoop eggs before public, even if we announce publicly.

JC

If we r doing egg sale sept 1, we should be announcing it a few days prior to a week so people can get excited along with the rules (3/5 per wallet, ability to buy in 3 methods, etc).

100% allude to it being on BSC. I just said pancake cause that's where most know how to trade.

- Don't need to remove "base" on base eggs. I actually like it there. I meant when the egg is being minted, instead of it saying "base" on the top just take it off (so a "minting egg" will just have "minting…" on the bottom — don't forget the triple period) Which you may have already known that's what I meant. So maybe ignore this IDK

- Question on the "minting" phase… is it possible to have this as a spinning egg instead of a still? I have the video of it spinning. Might add a cool factor to the game. The stationary one is a bit stale

- After an egg mints, let's have it say READY instead of HATCH or REVEAL

- Also just want to make sure that animation is correct. Heads up im going to be a stickler about this — like def can't have the pug popping up before the animation is finished

- You see how in the "Breedable Animals" section, the elephant and the panda are cut off at the bottom? Can we change this so we can still admire the art without the formatting of the BREED thing fucking it up? Pug gets cut off a bit too

- Still also gonna be a stickler about the text on the images. it should be uniform, from the animal name, to the rarity, to the date born. And we were gonna lower it too?

- I think we still need different font for the "ZOO" up top

- Quest

Notes on the video Eddie ^

Aaron Jacobson

Rarity classification for hybrids is set using the logic you laid out Logan. But different boost/yield combos result in hybrids having about 20 diff yield values.

Could be confusing for users trying to figure out why some Rare animals yield is 1000 and other Rare animals yield is 16650.

This is an example of an image not on the server. Eddie, we need to do an audit to make sure all images are there.

Name? - 1,050 - Uncommon

Aaron Jacobson

Yes, daily

Got it

Yeah see that's something we need to go over

Agreed. Meaning it's not on the page of all the images we have.

So let's look at them 1-1. Images from the drive & name sheet VS that are on the server.

E Was it in the yield calc?

uhhh

what

What page? Should have grabbed all Images from the google Drive 9:16 FINAL

All the images are

Eddie Ibanez

E Let me check quick - we had Dani & John look over each one.

It's a Butterflyaphant - Epic - 31,500. We have this pegged as the same yield as the Elephantterfly.

@Dani/Chief Zookeeper. Do you have some time to join me on a call E and let's have a once over on zoom on all these.

Yeah see I'd call that an Elephantterfly

That's why we gotta go threw and button it all up

Eddie Ibanez

K - no biggie let's all go through them then because in the drive 9:16 final they are named 2 different things - see images:

That's from the drive.

Unless I'm looking at the wrong folder. That's from the 9:16 final.

You want to do it all together ? Or would you like to take a cut at the names in the drive? I'm happy to have us all zoom with you etc.

But we should do this tonight.

I want to make sure I have this flow down. In the video I have the blue egg coming up after you buy an egg in the confirming stage. After this it turns into the base egg image. Here is my understanding of when to use the spinning translucent egg video you provided.

In the minting stage I had the base egg image stay, and it kind of moved around.

In this minting stage did you want me to also use turning blue egg translucent video. So the base egg would turn into that translucent egg and say minting. Then turn back when it's Ready?

I'm questioning only to understand and make sure I get it right. Tks.

I can also do a quick call on this if it's easier to chat it out at 5:30.

Eddie Ibanez

E Ok – then when you purchase an egg there's a moment where the purchase has to confirm over the mining network & there is a gap from when you buy an egg to when you're base egg appears – this is the step right before the minting process.

Jake Crypto King

JC Their normal AXS token.

Jake Crypto King

JC Not wrapped.

Eddie Ibanez

E So the BSC one ?

Jake Crypto King

JC AXS was originally an Erc20 token because they sold their token 6 months before their game went live. Then they wrapped their token so it could be traded on pancake swap (BSC) among others. However, it's "normally" on the eth blockchain before it was bridged to different chains. Mainly because when they did their token sale it was almost 2 years ago and all ICOs were on eth, no one even expected them to finish game play and when they did the token 4xed the day the game went live.

E Ok – then when you purchase an egg there's a moment where the purchase has to confirm over the mining network & there is a gap from when you buy an egg to when you're base egg appears – this is the step right before the minting process.

Yeah I'm saying we don't need an animation for this. If your egg mints successfully it appears, if not, you get an error message

Eddie Ibanez

Understood

E Tks

are we making a mistake by limiting to BSC

Jake Crypto King

JC If we have credit card options we have provided far more resources than other NFTs. Plus anyone who can use metamask for eth can use metamask for BSC or trust wallet for BSC. IMO we've provided far more options than most for purchase ability.

JC Not limiting by any means. If it was eth transactions would still cost $5-20 per hatch per move which is impossible (in gas).

Yeah but how can they get the resources to purchase $zoo without BSC

That's sick!!! I actually spoke to them & Binance crypto punks today which is why I cut in and out of the calls. I imagine you probably also have a relationship there.

They're interested in collaborating. Like with every shark NFT it gets paired with one of theirs so they get 2 for one. Or any idea. They mentioned a collab drop where sales go to a charity jointly.

They also gave out the idea of doing an NFT drop for a zoo.

Lmk what you want to do I can & set up a joint call.

The WoW was interesting because they're on ETH and would jointly help with a ETH/Zoo wrap if possible.

CryptoZoo - URGENT

Hi Logan and team,

Matic chain transaction fees are >$0.0001 per transaction, this will help your game go viral as it will open the door to more regular transactions.

BSC fees are still a considerable amount for most users and Matic can handle more transactions.

A final point, Matic network is more decentralised than the BSC network.

Please reconsider your choice of network, if you need any help with it don't hesitate to contact me.

Thanks,
Adam

Ok fantastic

Jake Crypto King

JC There are 1000 chains out there, matic, solana, ethereum, eos, and another 50 we could have built on. Every representative and investor will want our project on their chain because by default us blowing up draws huge attention to their blockchain. We chose BSC for fees, ease of trading and because on top of both those it'll likey come with an almost immediate Binance listing.

People will always want to sell u on why their chain is better. Right now for the style of project we have, the gamified yield generating platform bsc is perfect.

JC The bigger focus should not be a new chain or coin, but whom we want to partner and collab with as all project will want to work with ZOO and we need to be selective regarding who we collab with.

Eddie Ibanez

E Jake I totally agree – I'm setting up a call with them you game to hop on? If anything just good intel.
